Allies Push On Toward Main Red Defenses

Eight-Mile Penetration Deepest Yet

Artillery And Planes Blaze Path As Foes Now Start To Dig In

TOKYO, April 5 (AP)—An American task force thrust nearly eight miles inside Red Korea today as the spearhead of an Allied drive along 40 miles of the western and central fronts.

This was the deepest penetration into Red Korea of the current drive.

A U.S. Eighth Army communique reported the force met only light resistance in its patrol to the vicinity of Chail, nearly eight miles north of the 38th Parallel on the Uijongbu-Kumhwa road.

The United Nations ground commander, Lieutenant General Matthew B. Ridgway, joined his border-crossing troops. He had a live grenade dangling from his familiar paratrooper harness.

Allied artillery blazed a path for the forces driving toward the biggest Communist troop mass of the war. Planes rocketed and fire-bombed the fiercely-resisting Reds.

The Communists fought back with mortars, artillery and small arms. On the western front they are defending a densely-fortified area.

A divisional staff officer commented: "The enemy changed his tactics today. Instead of rolling with our punch as in the last few days, he was determined to stay in his positions."

Associated Press Correspondent John Randolph reported the Red positions are "laced by trench lines on every hill and anchored in long-planned and well-built dugouts. Some of these dugouts have concrete walls nearly two feet thick."

Steepl hills bar the path for the advancing Allies both on the western and central fronts. Doughboys have to drive the Reds off almost every peak.

"Things are progressing very smoothly," the Allied ground commander said.

The last Red defenders in the Chunchon sector have pulled out of South Korea under the impact of the Allied drive.

British troops cracked a hard, stubborn Red force northwest of Chunchon today, but had not crossed the border late in the day.

Reds who tried a counter-attack on the western front were cut to pieces by one artillery bombardment. Not one reached the Allied positions.

"That's firepower for you," said an Allied officer. "That's the stuff we want."

The Allied attackers are driving toward the area where the Reds are stacked deepest for an expected spring offensive.

Allied sources estimate about 500,000 Reds are massed along and near the front. The bulk are in the triangle formed by Kumhwa, Chorwon and Hwachon.

Grand Jury Believed Turning To Gambling

Four witnesses were called this morning before the April Grand Jury at Lisbon—apparently in connection with the announced check into gambling.

The jury completed its consideration of 10 scheduled criminal matters Wednesday. The jury was seated Tuesday.

In a meeting last week with mayors and chiefs of police, Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp announced he would request each new Grand Jury to investigate county gambling.

Israel, Syria Angered By Border Fight

U.N. Observers Fear Broad-Scale Clashes May Erupt

TEL AVIV, Israel, April 5 (AP)—Seven Israeli police were killed last night in a bloody clash with Syrian troops near the frontier and United Nations observers expressed fear today that broad-scale fighting may erupt.

The Israeli government is reported taking an "extremely serious" view of armed clashes on the southeast shore of the Sea of Galilee, charging that Syrian troops invaded Israeli territory and took up a post at the village of El Hamma in the demilitarized border zone. The U.N. armistice observers fear Israeli troops may decide to drive out the Syrians by force.

(In Damascus, a Syrian army spokesman said the seven Israelis were killed and one other was captured after an Israeli unit, armed with light automatic weapons, penetrated Syrian territory and opened fire on a Syrian post. The spokesman said this happened at the moment a Syrian delegation was meeting Israeli representatives at Roshpina under U.N. auspices in an attempt to solve peacefully the dispute over armistice terms in the frontier area.

(The clash resulted from "Israeli stubbornness in violating the armistice," the Syrian spokesman said. He added that "the Syrian army was very patient, but Israel's aggression had to be repelled and it is hoped they learn a lesson from this.")

The Israeli cabinet met in Jerusalem on the border crisis and Major General Yigal Yadin, army chief of staff, was called there to report.

A government spokesman said Israel is considering a protest to the U.N. Security Council that Syrian forces invaded Israeli territory and attacked policemen patrolling the border zone in trucks. He said the Syrians still are entrenched in the area.

Lieutenant Colonel Shaul Ramati, Israel's top liaison officer on the Israeli-Syrian mixed armistice commission, asked Colonel Bennet De Ridder, chief of the U.N. armistice observers, to notify Syria that Israel will not attend any meeting with the Syrian delegation as long as Israeli territory is occupied or as long as gunfire is directed at U.N. observers or Israeli police "responsible for security in that zone."

At the actual point of dispute, the Huleh swamps, there were no reports of incidents today. Israel is attempting to drain the swamps and reclaim a large area for agriculture.

Truman, Labor Talk It Over

U.L.P.C. Called To White House Today

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—President Truman called in chiefs of the big unions today to talk over organized labor's boycott of defense mobilization agencies.

The 18-man United Labor Policy Committee arranged to confer with the President at 3 p. m. on the recently-announced mobilization advisory committee. Under the plan announced by Mr. Truman at Key West two weeks ago, labor would have four representatives on an over-all policy committee of 17 members. None of them have yet been named.

The U.L.P.C. directed its members to withdraw from all defense agencies Feb. 28 in a dramatic split with the Truman administration.

It represents all the big unions except four operating rail unions and John L. Lewis' mine workers.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston last night told reporters he all but has given up efforts to bring the nation's top management and labor spokesmen into agreement on the remodeling of a Wage Stabilization Board which could handle mobilization disputes between now and June 30, when the present Defense Production Act will expire.

Mr. Johnston said it is possible a decision will be reached in the next few days on the type of agency to handle these emergency-born disputes for the next couple of months.

'Yes', 'No' Puzzle House On War Peril

Rayburn Delivers Warning, Connally Says Not This Year

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—President Truman said today the danger of a third world war is just as great as it ever was. He would not comment on a speech yesterday by Speaker Rayburn that large numbers of troops are massing in Manchuria and that they are not all Chinese Communists. He did say the speaker is a truthful man.

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn's warning of the "terrible danger" of another world war echoed in today's House debate on the draft-universal military training bill.

A contradictory statement by another Texan, Senator Tom Connally, added to the puzzlement of House members.

Mr. Rayburn broke into the House debate yesterday to declare:

"It is my firm belief that we are in greater danger of an expanding war today than we have been at any time since the close of the world war in 1945."

The speaker had just come from a White House briefing on Korea. He told of a massing of troops in Manchuria, "and not all of them Chinese Communists." He did not elaborate. And he declined to say whether he was talking about Russians.

In Tokyo, informed quarters at General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said Russia's Far Eastern army has shown no tendency to build up its forces within Manchuria. However, the Russians are believed to maintain some garrisons in Chinese territory. Two Mongol cavalry divisions have been identified in Korea.

In the Senate, Mr. Connally said: "There will be no world war this year. The Russians will not defy the free nations of the world."

Mr. Rayburn warned the House earnestly against "complacency" over the future. He promised to speak again later and give some more information he thought his colleagues lack.

The House bill would lower the draft age from 19 to 18½, extend the length of service and set up a program of universal military training. The Senate has passed a similar measure with an 18-year age minimum.

Representative Barden (D) of North Carolina led an attack against the House measure. He demanded passage of a draft measure alone, with universal training left to separate legislation. And he appears to be gaining support.

But after Mr. Rayburn spoke, Assistant Democratic Leader Priest of Tennessee told reporters: "We are gaining strength and we have the votes to pass the committee bill at this time."

Mr. Rayburn also said the administration bill is picking up strength. House members recalled that the speaker seldom takes the floor unless an administration measure is in trouble.

Public Hearings Begin Into Ohio Subversives

COLUMBUS, April 5 (AP)—The Ohio legislative inquiry into subversive activities in the state was opened to the public for the first time today.

Representatives of seven organizations were on hand to tell the joint Senate-House committee what they know of any Communist or other subversive menace to the state.

For several weeks the probers, headed by Representative Kenneth Robinson (R) of Marion county, have been laying the groundwork for their inquiry in secret sessions.

Unable To Make Date With Governor To Discuss Controversy

Unable to land an appointment with Governor Lausche, a special committee from the Chamber of Commerce will go to Columbus Friday to do the next best thing—confer again with the State Bridge Commission.

The committee had hoped to lay before the governor the basic facts on the East Liverpool Bridge, which the committee contends should be made toll-free because enough money has been collected to pay for it.

However, the governor's secretary said his schedule for Friday is full and there is no possibility of working in an audience for the local delegation.

It was suggested that the delegation write a letter, instead, outlining the facts and setting forth its position.

It was after receipt of this word that the delegation decided to accept an invitation to attend a special meeting of the Bridge Commission called for Friday at 2 p. m. in Columbus.

The Commission has contended tolls should be kept on the local bridge until enough money is collected to pay for improving the bridge approach where East Third St. makes a sharp, right-angle turn onto the bridge.

The Chamber has contended this is unnecessary, and has demanded freeing of the bridge in accordance with the law.

It is this point of difference which is expected to be threshed out at Friday's meeting.

Making the trip in the local delegation will be Robert H. Hays, Chamber president, and these members of the special bridge committee: Attorney Francis H. Lang, C. V. Hughes, George Bloomgren, Patrick J. O'Farrell and H. R. Frederick.

The Chamber group will have the support, too, of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters. James M. Duffy, president of the Brotherhood, will make the trip as the spokesman of the pottery workers, who use the bridge more than any other single segment of the local population.

It has been estimated that removal of the toll would mean a saving of from $5 to $10 a month to each pottery worker compelled to cross the bridge to reach his work every day.

Rosenbergs To Pay With Their Lives

'Your Crime Worse Than Murder,' Judge Tells Man And Wife

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, April 5—Morton Sobell was sentenced today to 30 years imprisonment on atom spy charges. The sentencing of David Greenglass was delayed until Friday at 2 p. m.

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Convicted atom bomb spies Julius Rosenberg and his wife Ethel were sentenced to death today. Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman ordered them executed some time in the week beginning May 21.

He did not specify the method of execution, but stated it should be carried out "according to the law."

In a lengthy preliminary discussion before imposing sentence, the judge told the Rosenbergs: "I consider your crime worse than murder."

U.S. Attorney Irving S. Saypol said that the federal law, under the judge's sentence, will require the Rosenbergs be executed in the electric chair.

Judge Kaufman told the Rosenbergs:

"Plain, deliberate murder is warranted by your acts."

The judge added that he had "searched the records and my conscience for some reason for mercy, but I am convinced that I would violate the trust placed in me if I showed any leniency to the Rosenbergs."

The Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell were convicted last week of obtaining atomic spy secrets and passing them to Russia.

David Greenglass, brother of Mrs. Rosenberg, who confessed to obtaining atomic secrets while working at the Los Alamos (N. M.), atomic bomb base and passing them to the Rosenbergs, was the chief prosecution witness against his brother-in-law and sister. He awaits sentencing.

Judge Kaufman asserted that the Rosenbergs had committed their acts of espionage in 1944, while the country was at war. "The overt acts were committed during hostilities," the judge added. Sentence was imposed at 12:08 p. m.

Judge Kaufman opened his discussion by outlining the penalties provided in the espionage act in force. He said that provisions of the act under which the indictments were returned were enacted in 1917 "when the Russian international spy ring did not present the threat it does now."

The law, the judge said, provides a maximum penalty of 30 years imprisonment for a conviction of peace-time espionage and a maximum of death or imprisonment for not more than 30 years for wartime espionage.

Stating that the law when enacted took no cognizance of vital secrets such as the atom bomb, Judge Kaufman declared: "It is time for Congress to examine the penal provisions of this act."

He declared that should any persons be convicted in peacetime of transmitting secrets "concerning the new type of A-bomb or the hydrogen bomb, the maximum penalty that can be imposed is 30 years."

The court characterized the espionage activities of the Rosenbergs as "a dirty business."

"This does not reflect the courage of Nathan Hale for his country," Judge Kaufman said. "This is a dirty business—betrayal of one's own country."

U. S. District Attorney Don C. Miller said James Licavoli of Cleveland, Joseph Di Carlo of Youngstown and Joseph J. Aiuppa of Chicago are to make pleas then. They are free under $5,000 bonds.

Pietranton's Hearing Delayed Until May 11

NEW CUMBERLAND, April 5 (Special)—Arraignment of Hancock County Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton and a woman he allegedly influenced fraudulently to sign a will was delayed today until May 11.

Judge J. J. P. O'Brien granted the continuance in Brooke County Circuit Court at Wellsville on a motion of defense counsel. The attorneys said they had not had time to study the cases thoroughly.

Mrs. Margie Pollock Spies was indicted by the Brooke Grand Jury last week on charges of fraudulently signing a will reportedly involving an estate valued at $25,000.

Pietranton was indicted at the same time on a charge he influenced Mrs. Spies in signing her late husband's name to the will and also on a charge he fraudulently converted for his own use $2,833.33 collected in another case he handled as an attorney in private practice.

Both of the alleged acts occurred before Pietranton took office in Hancock County. Judge O'Brien continued today the $2,500 bond under which Mrs. Spies is free, and also the $2,500 bond on each charge on which Pietranton was released.

There are 6,485,000 farm homes in the United States and 39,790,000 non-farm dwellings, according to the 1950 census.

11 Pass Examination For Fire Eligibility List

All 11 applicants won passing grades Wednesday night in a test the Municipal Civil Service Commission conducted to make up a new eligibility list for future job openings on the Fire Department.

There are no jobs open but an eligibility list always is kept on file in case the administration requests names for an appointment, the commission explained. The test is held annually to replace the expired eligibility list. Twelve applications were filed before the deadline Tuesday but one failed to appear for the test last night in the City Hall.

Meanwhile, Robert M. Duffy, secretary, said two men have obtained applications for a similar examination for a Police Department eligibility list that the commission will conduct Wednesday.

Members are Clarence D. Wright, chairman, Leland W. Barr and Glenn B. Roberts.

A Check Rein On Officials

PRESUMABLY, State Representatives Clarence L. Wetzel and Delmar T. O'Hara had their reasons for voting against the bill to give Governor Lausche power to start removal proceedings against sheriffs, prosecutors and mayors when he thinks they are falling down in their sworn duty to uphold the laws.

We think the two representatives were wrong—not quite so outrageously wrong as Mr. Wetzel was when he introduced his bill to perpetuate the State Bridge Commission, but wrong in an important detail of governmental housekeeping.

One of the characteristics of elected public officials is that they come to believe they are responsible to nothing but their own consciences. They were elected by the people, and no one is going to tell them how to run their business. In case they're running it wrong, the people necessarily must wait until the next election before they can "turn the rascals out."

The No. 1 argument of the apostles of city manager government always has been that all officials, including the manager, are appointed, and therefore their work is subject to regular review, followed by dismissal if that's indicated.

No such regulation hangs over the heads of elected officials. They are as free as the breeze. Most of them do a conscientious job because they sincerely want to be re-elected, and know that a good record is the soundest way to earn re-election. But anytime an official becomes more interested in lining his pockets than in serving the public, he can pile up a pretty fair bank account before the next election rolls around.

It is this element—a check rein on the occasional public official who turns greedy—that makes the governor's removal recommendation a handy instrument to have on the law books. Fortunately, there were enough favorable votes in the House to pass the bill despite Mr. Wetzel and Mr. O'Hara, plus 43 other Republicans and eight Democrats who voted in opposition.

It might be argued that the governor could use the law to badger some local official he didn't like. However, the provision is that the removal hearings will be conducted in open court, with a jury participating if the official wants one. It's hard to imagine any spite work getting very far with such safeguards on hand.

Bingo Is Illegal, Period

PROSECUTOR James L. MacDonald has convinced himself that bingo is illegal, period. The charity angle doesn't have anything to do with it, except to make it a little harder to produce conclusive evidence.

Local police were enforcing the law when they closed down the local bingo halls, and they're continuing to enforce the law by keeping them closed. If someone thinks differently, they'll have to change the law, which is what the police get paid to enforce.

And an effort seems to be coming up in Columbus to do just that. A state representative from Mahoning County wants to amend the state constitution to legalize bingo for charity's benefit.

He will get a lot of support from organizations which depend on "innocent gambling" to raise money. These groups argue there is nothing morally wrong with what they do, because they victimize no one. Their revenue comes entirely from persons who know where the money goes.

It was organizations like these which the Ohio Legislature had in mind when it weakened the anti-lottery law by outlawing only those enterprises which were for someone's profit. Thereupon, bingo and other lotteries became "non-profit" functions in a hurry—on the outside. But on the inside, it wasn't that way. Operators merely paid some organization a certain fee for using its name, and went right on raking in the dough.

Bingo, masquerading as charity, is a grim joke. It would be a grimmer joke if law-abiding citizens lend the names of their organizations to perpetuating this shielding of strictly commercial operators. And it would be the laugh of the year if people who want to raise a few dollars for worthy purposes should be the means of putting leeches beyond the reach of the law.

Apple Polishers

ASIDE from all other misgivings about draft deferment of college students on an intelligence basis, there is a mountainous misgiving about the way different colleges grade their students.

There is no uniformity in the grading systems of colleges. Nor is there sufficient uniformity in collegiate standards to justify the assumption that a student in the deferment range of one college would necessarily be in the deferment range of another. Moreover, instructors are liable both to error and to favoritism. The Selective Service system has put a dangerously high premium on apple polishing for young men who have the knack.

If it is proper to grant deferments, which in many cases might prove to be exemptions, to young men on a basis of intelligence, the least that can be expected by young men not fortunate enough to go to college is a uniform rule.

A CONGRESSIONAL committee which sets out to investigate a witness should complete its job or announce to the public that it has not completed the investigation.

Otherwise, it betrays its trust and it places the witness in a false light. It does not take full advantage of his appearance before it and, at the same time, it gives to the public the impression that his answers were inadequate.

The House committee on un-American activities, which under the chairmanship of Martin Dies and J. Parnell Thomas served this country well, in spite of all left-wing criticisms, has proved itself to be inadequate during the last two years, under the chairmanship of John S. Wood.

Take, for instance, the investigation of Larry Parks. He appeared before the committee in executive session and answered all the questions that were asked of him.

As far as it went, his testimony was adequate. He confessed to his own Communist participation. He named names where asked to do so. This is tough doing, when one works in an industry which is overanxious to protect the property value of advertised names, no matter what the owners of those names have done to damage their country.

Just as Mr. Parks' testimony was becoming important, a bell rang calling the members of the House of Representatives to a roll call. Such a routine does not take long and the committee could have and should have resumed its hearing.

INSTEAD, Mr. Parks was excused and the committee never called him back to an executive session. Thus, his testimony was never completed. He was never asked essential questions leading to the present situation. He was never given an opportunity to explain positions which he and his colleagues took subsequent to 1945 when our alliance with Soviet Russia terminated.

The injustice is as great to him as it is to the people of the United States. Those who have read reports of the public session of the committee, at which Mr. Parks appeared, are naturally of the opinion that all he tried to do was to square himself by a pathetic recital of his background.

What they do not know is that the House committee on un-American activities failed to get the most information out of a witness and that when they had a friendly witness before them who was willing to testify they shut up because a bell rang.

This committee is coasting along on the great work done by Martin Dies, Robert Stripling, J. B. Mathews, J. Parnell Thomas and Richard Nixon. It is not doing a comparable service. It is a lazy, inadequate committee that submits to pressures by the Justice Department, which apparently is seeking to prevent a second Alger Hiss case from developing.

A committee of Congress should be absolutely independent of the executive branch of government. It is not expected to recognize the political necessities or to respect the chicaneries of those in office.

The story goes that this committee confers with Deputy Attorney General Peyton Ford, or as another account has it, Mr. Ford's task is to see that no new Alger Hiss case breaks. The Justice Department is designed to be a law enforcement, not a political, agency.

PRECISELY what happened to the Tydings committee is that it submitted to executive pressure. That is why I have said that the McCarthy charges stand.

The Tydings committee did not investigate them. When its counsel, Edward Morgan, came to my house, he told me the story as it never was permitted to be told to his committee. And there was little difference between the story he told me and that which Senator Joe McCarthy was shouting from the house tops. Someone reached that committee to kill the evidence.

I am not convinced that the inadequate functioning of the House committee on un-American activities is altogether fortuitous. Something queer goes on when a witness like Larry Parks is shut off by a bell when he provides evidence which the committee badly needs to make a case. It looks as though someone were waiting for that bell to ring—and that someone was not Larry Parks.

This column has been supporting this committee since it was organized. But if it plays such tricks as I have described, it must be shown up for what it is. A committee which does not do its work properly should not exist.

The 'Newspaper Game'

By Hal Boyle

THE OTHER day a fellow who works the typewriter next to mine said: "My 11-year-old daughter just announced she is going to become a newspaperwoman and wants to know what I think of the idea? Why don't you write a piece about the business?"

Well, future fellow citizens, here goes:

Newspapermen don't fit in any standard type of pigeonhole. They come in all sizes, shapes and temperaments. Some are full of the milk of human kindness and some are so mean they wouldn't get up to give their old mother a seat on the subway.

But, by and large, the best of them live up to an unwritten code. The goal of the code is to find out what is going on in the world and to write down what they find out. Their newspaper then prints it.

That sounds like a very simple task—merely to find out information and put it on paper. Actually it can be, and often is, an excruciatingly complex and painful job. It is easy to get most people to tell you what they want you to know. The art of reporting is to get people to tell you what you yourself want to know—the truth of a situation. And often that isn't easy.

One of the most difficult things for an idealistic young man or woman reporter to realize is that nice-looking people not only can be bold—they can lie with a disarming smile. And they sometimes will lie when it isn't even necessary.

It doesn't take any one type of background to be a newspaperman. I've known good reporters—and writers—who started out as professional boxers or motorcycle cops. A college education, however, gives a big advantage, particularly if you take courses in the basic fields of human knowledge—history, government, language, social science, physical science.

You ought to know a little something about people, birds, trees, communism, flowers, the atom bomb and the Electoral College. And some one subject you should know well—you might want to specialize in it later.

Reporting is rarely exciting physically after the first few years. After you cover 10 fires, the fire bell doesn't have the same appeal. But reporting should remain mentally exciting all your life, as you go on reporting things more important to the human way of life than fires.

The rewards? They range all the way from what a bank clerk makes to the income of a bank president. If you really yearn to own a yacht, however, it might be wise to try some other occupation. But the highest reward of a real newspaperman is to have another newspaperman he respects say: "I liked your story. It had it."

You can't deposit such compliments in the bank. But if a man gets enough of them he can grow old gracefully in the newspaper business.

Peace With Japan

By Raymond Moley

WHILE DOUBT and delay still linger in continental Europe, the Japanese are ready and anxious to defend themselves against Communist aggression.

All that remains to be done before Japanese rearmament becomes a reality is a peace treaty with the United States and such other Allied powers as are willing to join.

Preparation for a treaty was entrusted to John Foster Dulles, who spent some weeks early this year in Japan and Australia. In the time since his return, progress has been made.

In comparison with Europe, this problem is relatively simple. The United States is free to act alone if necessary. But it is desirable that Australia, New Zealand and Great Britain join, if they will. Soviet Russia cannot impose a veto, regardless of how loudly it may protest. And since the Chinese situation remains as it is, there could be no reason to wait for the inclusion of either of the rival governments of that country.

In providing for their self-defense, the Japanese will need, for a long time, the support of our Air Force and Navy. We also shall have to help supply Japanese industry with many kinds of raw materials.

The Dulles mission was under the auspices of the State Department and it may be assumed that that branch of government favors going ahead.

'The Next Generation Will Be Better'

By Reiman Morin

(This is the second of four stories dealing with the question: What has happened to American public morality?)

THIS IS A diseased generation—but the next one, if it isn't destroyed by war, will be better. That is the opinion of Dr. John Haynes Holmes pastor of the Interdenominational Church of New York since 1907. In more than 40 years of church work, he says, he has never seen moral standards in America so low as they now are.

"People have lost the ability, literally, to distinguish between right and wrong," Dr. Holmes said, underlying recent disclosures of corruption in government and the stories of graft, bribery and influence uncovered by the Kefauver and Fulbright committees. The clergymen said he believes the present condition of public morality in America is new and aggravated, rather than an ever-present situation which has suddenly been brought to wide public attention.

"Something very serious has happened to the moral fiber of this generation," he declared. "Like a human body, a society can fall a victim of a disease and die of it, as Toynbee and other historians have demonstrated. This country is in mortal danger today. It could die as other societies have died."

"Americans are trying to live without God. And it can't be done. They have been trying it for about 30 years. But the laws of morality are as exact and inexorable as the laws of physics or chemistry. When they are violated, things go wrong—even to the extent of a terrible explosion."

THE GREAT corrosive agents, Dr. Holmes said, have come directly from the two world wars in which the United States was engaged.

"War is an evil that embraces all other evils. It sanctions murder, permits theft and condones sexual license. A man is concerned solely with survival. All other bars are down.

"It is impossible—without tremendous moral strength—for the civilian population, far removed from the front, not to be affected by these standards of conduct."

An implacable enemy of war, Dr. Holmes said the influences distilled from the vast world convulsions of 1917 and 1941 "have become a cancer eating into the structure of our lives."

The presumably corrective influences in American life, he continued, have not been equal to the task that confronted them.

"We are all at fault—the churches, the schools and the parents in the home."

"As a clergyman, I recognize our degree of responsibility. The churches have not been very rigorous in teaching or practice of moral truths. They have become interested in raising money for pleasant little things around the community and in having a beautiful service on Sunday."

"The churches fooled around with theology in those years when the world was crying for guidance."

Statistics have indicated that attendance in churches in this country has grown markedly since the war.

"I have some doubts about those figures," Dr. Holmes replied. "But even assuming they are accurate, they do not necessarily mean people are more spiritual. Yes, God is for Sunday, they think, but not for the other six days of the week."

THERE SHOULD be instruction in ethics and morals in the schools, he said.

"Parents haven't been doing the job. They have become too completely fascinated with buying a new gadget to amuse them or a machine to make house work easier. A home today is a place of entertainment, not of instruction."

Nevertheless, Dr. Holmes said, there is more hope for the generation of people still in high schools and colleges now.

"There is an earnestness among these youngsters, a searching. They seem to sense that things are not right and that they could be better."

"I get many different evidences of this, not only from my own observation but from what people tell me."

"It may be, simply, that these young people feel they are going out into a world that may destroy them. It may be only the instinct for survival. But there is real hope in that direction."

"If these people are not reduced to barbarians by a third world war, they may create something much better than what we see now."

Ever Since 1938

By Truman Twill

THIRTEEN years ago this column was pushed off to a dubious start.

There were some remarks in it about Easter, which came on April 17 in 1938. Before that, there had been other remarks—about desk work, dogs, parades, birds and so on.

The ordeal faced by men when they buy new hats was touched upon, also the then-new style of open-work sandals for females. There were inventories of the contents of bureau drawers and women's handbags. A piece about men's vests closed with the prediction they would continue to be sold with new suits and hung away in closets.

As the weather warmed up, iced tea and porch furniture were discussed, also women's hats, alarm clocks, parsley, porches, water faucets, hard towels, plumbers, Sunday night suppers and chicken pox. At the end of a year, it was reported that the outstanding accomplishment of the column, aside from stretching three-quarters of a mile had been its lack of purpose. Twill had no burning issues on his mind.

That became a credo as the years passed—that with so many people trying to force so many big ideas down so many other people's throats it was a good idea to remember that most of us ordinary mortals were still interested in just ordinary things. Such as birthdays, anniversaries, taking out storm windows and putting in screens, food, cats, dogs, games, weddings, funerals, meat and potatoes.

With few exceptions—very few—that has been the pitch for 13 years. It has been maintained through the tail end of a depression, a shooting war and a peace in which there is no peace. Great causes and ideas that were going to make over the world have come and gone.

This could be the finest world imaginable if people would quit pushing one another and reaching for a gun every time they met with opposition.

The Garble Sisters

"DID you ever see so much scandal?" "It's positively grim. Who would ever think an admiral would be mentioned in connection with the monk coat Joe Erickson gave Virginia Lustron?"

"Washington never should of sold the fur coats as surplus in the first place, as Kefauver brought out when he cross-examined Inspector Goldman in the Adair maritime matter."

"That's the case where the Casey brothers jumped ship in the point-spread system, ain't it?"

"No, you're thinking of the O'Crane's, who they say gave a million to the Ohio housing corporation with only the Murder Incorporated Club as security."

"Anyhow, I'm glad Tom Dewey gave the Kefauver committee another 30 days. I wonder what they will do about Tobey."

"What about him?" "He refuses to talk."

"WEREN'T YOU amazed by the way gangsters have gotten into so many legitimate businesses disguised as basketball players?"

"Not much. I know Costello, Sobel and Anastasia were missing a lot of baskets all last season, even before Senator Halley went into those Florida hotel loans."

"Fulbright will clear up that whole Saratoga mess, I guess. He's got a good committee. . . . DiSalle, Tom Murphy, General Lucius Clay, John Harlan and Leo Durocher."

"What's the charge against Saratoga?"

"They say it got five million dollars from the R.F.C. without putting up anything except some juke boxes and an organization to educate the Chinese. I hear it is now out on probation."

"Well, it seems to me those six policemen and the revenue agents could have watched it more carefully. What about that police inspector who met General Sherman at the airport with a police car? Do you think he jumped out of that hotel window?"

"No I think he was thrown out by those six lawyers because he was willing to tell the truth and testify before television."

I HOPE the Kefauver grand jury continues its work by video. The television programs are awful dull now. I thought Greasy Thumb McGuire was funny on the screen when he was being questioned by Virginia O'Connor on the way he bought those surplus trucks in Germany and re-sold them to the U.S. Army in this country without even showing his naturalization papers at City Hall."

"What do you think of the U.N. proposal that the whole crime situation be looked into by a big committee on ethics to be made up of two college presidents, Judy Holliday, Big Jim Farley, Jose Ferrer, Dizzy Dean and Professor Einstein?"

"I'm for it. We've got to get to the bottom of things no matter whether the game is given back to the colleges or played in Madison Square Garden."

YE GOTHAM BUGLE & BANNER

Al Spette wants to know if Shudda Haddim had Stroll with Walker up the other day. . . . Jose Ferrer who got an Oscar for Cyrano won it, obviously, by a nose. . . . What Harry Truman meant to say was, "I do not choose to choose." . . . The Russians defending the shooting up of tourist buses full of unarmed Americans probably hold that the buses were army tanks in disguise, that the bus drivers were Wall Street capitalists and that a tourist on a sight-seeing trip is a warmonger. . . . In selecting a young woman to act Lady Godiva, a British board says, "The top requirements were a good education, cultural background and ability to ride a horse." Wanna bet?

Yesterdays

From The Review Files

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO—The city of Wellsville elected to remain dry by a vote of 937 to 795 in a special election called by wet forces.

Gus Alexander and other owners of the Crystal Restaurant took a lease on the store room in the Diamond which was occupied as a waiting station by the East Liverpool Traction & Light Co.

Mayor W. F. Orr and Safety Director C. H. Schell announced boxing bouts for purses of money would not be allowed in East Liverpool.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Members of the East Liverpool American Legion auxiliary made plans for distribution of Easter baskets to children of 75 of the city's needy veterans. The Board of Education prohibited operation of lunch stands in the High School Building and Patterson Field, holding this privilege was to go to the Hi-Tri Club.

Street car service between East Liverpool and Newell was interrupted when a landslide near the end of the bridge in West Virginia blocked the tracks.

TEN YEARS AGO—Charles M. Lowry and William M. Martin were elected life elders in the Madison Presbyterian Church, succeeding Edward Greene, who resigned, and the late George Applegate.

Richard V. Beatty, Pottery Lumber Co. executive and a member of the Officers Reserve Corps, received his orders to report for military service at Washington.

J. T. Croxall was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce. C. V. Hughes and S. C. Porter were named vice-presidents, and William O. Bloor treasurer.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

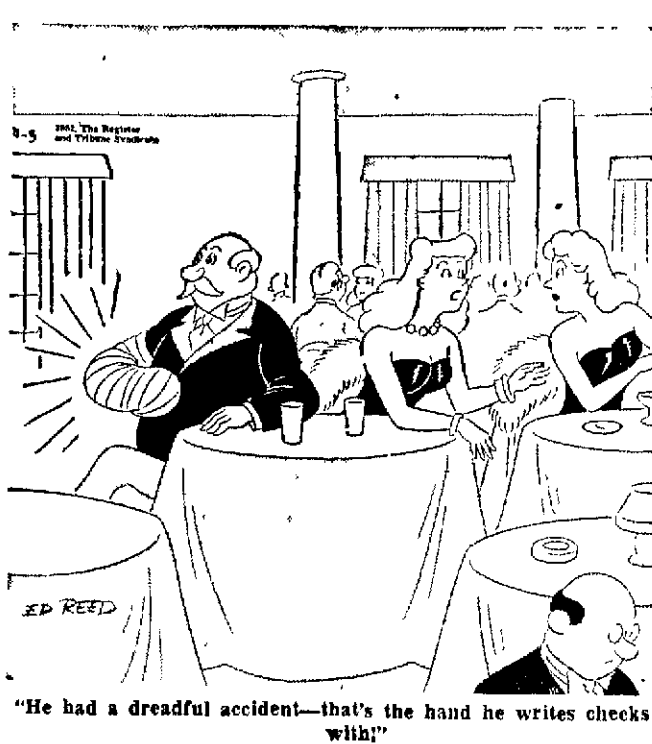

SENATOR KEFAUVER'S unwillingness to go on with the crime investigating committee beyond next month is understandable. He feels that he has been sustaining long enough.

No successor has been picked, but I hear three senators have been practicing in front of their bathroom mirrors.

And one took the picture tube out of his TV set and stuck his head through the back so his wife could see how he'll look in closeup.

But the public demand for more hearings is puzzling. Senator Hunt can't figure whether the people are clamoring for the elimination of gambling or the continuation of Halley.

The networks are puzzled, too. They can't figure the demand for Tobey when Tallulah has so much more to offer.

"He had a dreadful accident—that's the hand he writes checks with!"

'Big Names' Linked To New R.F.C. Charge

Tobey Pledged To Secrecy Until Probe By Fulbright Group

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Senators kept mum today about a new case drawn into an investigation of political influence in Reconstruction Finance Corp. affairs.

Senator Tobey (R) of New Hampshire outlined details of the case yesterday before a closed-door meeting of a Senate banking subcommittee which already has charged that a ring with White House contacts has exerted influence over loans by the huge government lending agency.

Chairman Fulbright (D) of Arkansas promptly pledged Mr. Tobey and subcommittee members to secrecy until his group completes its own preliminary investigation of the new charges. Mr. Fulbright said that won't take long.

One member said big names are involved, but like the others he declined to hint at the nature of Mr. Tobey's information. Mr. Fulbright said it involves the R.F.C. but does not involve any loans.

Meanwhile the subcommittee raised a new head of steam under its efforts to get White House aid Donald Dawson to volunteer to reply on its charges that he is a member of the alleged influence ring.

President Truman has called the accusations asinine. Mr. Dawson has not acknowledged the subcommittee's invitation to come in.

Mr. Fulbright holds the subcommittee lacks constitutional powers to require any White House aid to testify.

He indicated the next step may be another letter to Mr. Dawson urging him to testify or even a letter to the President asking him to order Mr. Dawson to appear out.

The subcommittee by an announced 5-to-2 vote agreed also to hand over to a special investigations subcommittee headed by Senator Hoyer (D) of North Carolina its blocked inquiry into big profits on deals in war surplus ships by a group led by former representative Joseph E. Casey of Massachusetts.

Mr. Casey, who had challenged the Fulbright group's authority to ask him further questions about the ship profits yesterday declared his willingness to tell the story to any congressional group which he considers does have jurisdiction.

Auxiliary Patrolmen Given A-Bomb Training

Instruction in self-protection in case of a bomb attack was given at the monthly meeting of the Columbiana County Highway Patrol Auxiliary in the American Legion Home in Lisbon Wednesday night.

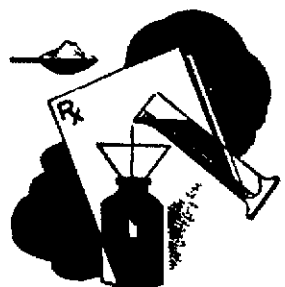

Corporal Edward Malley in charge of the Salem Barracks of the State Highway Patrol, was instructor. First Aid instruction also was given.

Fifty World War I and II veterans members of the American Legion attended the meeting. Some are members of the new class organized about a month ago for a four-month course for volunteer service in case of disaster.

About a dozen members will attend the annual state auxiliary meeting Saturday and Sunday in Columbus. The local delegation will be headed by Corporal Malley.

George Gonzalez, State Highway Department engineer and captain of the auxiliary, presided. Lunch was served. The next meeting will be May 2 at Lisbon.

The car is believed to be the first wheeled vehicle invented.

New Jet Tapper Eases Danger In Mill 'Unplugging'

CLEVELAND, April 5 (AP)—

Removing clay plugs from open hearth furnaces has long been one of steelmaking's most hazardous jobs.

A device similar to the tank-busting bazooka promises to make it a safe one.

The device, called jet tapper, is a long cardboard tube carrying a two-ounce charge of the powerful explosive RDX. Its operation was described here yesterday to closing sessions of an American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers conference.

Harold J. Walker, superintendent of the Republic Steel Corp.'s Warren (O.) works, said the tapper enables a steelworker to shoot the plug out of a furnace while standing a safe distance away.

The standard method requires an asbestos-clad worker to burn out the plug with an oxygen lance and scramble out of the way when the molten metal starts to run.

Fired electrically, the jet tapper shoots a high velocity stream of tiny copper fragments into the plug.

State Tries To Save It

Bridge At Parkersburg Worries West Virginia

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 5 (AP)—The Parkersburg bridge, like that one of London legend, may be falling down, but the Road Commission hasn't given up hope of saving it. It awarded a contract Tuesday at Charleston to Hatcher Brothers, Inc., of Mingo Junction, O., to remove the concrete flooring, one of the contributing factors in the weakening of the span.

That floor will be replaced with steel grid, expected to lighten the load considerably.

Since Road Commission engineers found out about a month ago that there were structural weaknesses in the span, it has been closed to all but pedestrian traffic.

The Parkersburg Transit Co. came to the rescue with a ferry to transport commuters back and forth between Parkersburg and Belpre, O. But even that method has had its difficulties.

One day the engine went dead on one of the tugs towing the ferry and some 75 persons drifted two and a half miles down the Ohio.

Everybody has had ideas for a solution. Congressman M. G. Burnside came up with the suggestion that a pontoon bridge be used.

He said the Army engineers would receive good on-the-job training while installing the bridge and the public would soon be allowed to travel back and forth as in the old days. Governor Patterson turned thumbs down on the plan. Mr. Patterson couldn't figure how the boats carrying cargo up and down the Ohio would be able to get past Parkersburg and Belpre.

Industrial men in the Parkersburg-Belpre area have complained of a slowdown in business because of the trouble in getting out shipments.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad said it has noticed a large increase in less-than-carload shipments since the bridge has been closed.

Operators of heavy trucks have to drive up and down the river looking for a bridge that has a large enough load limit to permit them to cross.

Because of the large amount of detour traffic running across other spans, load limits have been placed on several bridges making the situation worse.

When Hatcher Brothers get the concrete floor up and things are ready for the steel grid, more trouble is expected to develop.

Because of the emergency, the National Production Authority is allocating only 150,000 tons of steel for highway projects from the June production. Of this amount West Virginia hopes to get about 1 per cent, Road Commission officials said.

That steel only will be delivered to states where the need is apparent. The commission is hoping it will be able to convince the N.P.A. that the need is here.

The 50th West Virginia legislature granted authority to the Road Commission to charge tolls on the old bridge again, once it is back in use. This was done because if a new bridge is built, which the commission has the power to do, it will have to be a toll bridge.

The old bridge would necessarily have to be a toll bridge because it would be impractical to have a free bridge next to one where tolls are charged and expect to make money on the toll span.

Tolls are used to pay off the bond issue used to build the bridge.

They were dropped from the old bridge in December, 1946, after it was paid for.

City Council To Meet To Act On Pay Raises

City Council probably will schedule a special session before its next regular meeting April 16 to enact legislation giving 126 appointive municipal employees 5 per cent pay hikes, retroactive to Jan. 1.

Work on computing the new pay scales already has started. City Auditor E. Allan McKeever got out his adding machine and a copy of the existing wage ordinance today to work out the figures for the new legislation.

It's the second boost for city workers in a little over three months. Late in 1950, they were given 5 per cent, retroactive to Sept. 1.

The newest increase is expected to add about $20,000 to payroll costs. It will cover everyone except elective officials.

City Council probably will schedule a special session before its next regular meeting April 16 to enact legislation giving 126 appointive municipal employees 5 per cent pay hikes, retroactive to Jan. 1.

Work on computing the new pay scales already has started. City Auditor E. Allan McKeever got out his adding machine and a copy of the existing wage ordinance today to work out the figures for the new legislation.

It's the second boost for city workers in a little over three months. Late in 1950, they were given 5 per cent, retroactive to Sept. 1.

The newest increase is expected to add about $20,000 to payroll costs. It will cover everyone except elective officials.

Churches Open Drive To Get Temple Funds

COLUMBUS, April 5 (AP)—The Ohio Council of Churches yesterday opened a state-wide drive to raise 10 million dollars—perhaps double that—to build a skyscraper Protestant temple of good will on the banks of the Scioto River in downtown Columbus.

The drive is part of an Ohio project to make the state capital the Protestant capital of the nation.

Dr. B. F. Lamb, president of the Ohio Council, said before the fund drive ends in the fall of 1952 committees will have been working within each national denomination.

He said these committees will stress the invitation by the Ohio council to move their national headquarters to Columbus to the proposed multimillion-dollar temple.

Mrs. Alfred Steff Midland 2131

Miss Louise Ann Fresty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fresty, 501 Ohio Ave., became the bride of Felix Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patsy Smith, 156 Midland Ave., at 10 o'clock single-ring nuptials Saturday morning in the Presentation Catholic Church.

Rev. Fr. Paul P. Leger, the assistant pastor, heard their vows before the church altar banked with ferns and palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white satin and lace, styled with a Queen Ann collar of Chantilly lace, long sleeves, pointed at the wrists, and a full skirt, ending in a court train. Inserts of lace also were used to trim the bodice and to form a ruffle edging the skirt.

Her finger-tip veil fell from a crown of rhinestones and seed pearls and she carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations, centered with white orchids. Her only jewelry was a gold cross, a gift of the bridegroom.

Her maid of honor was Miss Rose Cuadaro of Steubenville, who wore a pink satin gown with a silver-colored hat and other accessories to match. Her colonial bouquet was of pink roses and carnations.

The bridesmaids were Misses Josephine Veglia, a niece of the bridegroom, Catherine Turchio and Marian Clancy, all of Midland, and Rose Ann Brown of East Liverpool. They were in pastel gowns with matching crowns and carried colonial bouquets of red roses and carnations.

Becky Smith of Vanport, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl and his nephew, Buddy Beaver of Midland, was ring bearer. James Daniels of Midland served as Mr. Smith's best man. Ushers were Terry Gutierrez, Charles Fresty Jr., brother of the bride, and Jesse Bernardi, all of Midland, and Robert Cernate of Butler, a cousin of the bridegroom.

A wedding dinner for 85 guests was held in the afternoon at De-ramo's Restaurant, followed by a reception that evening for 200 guests at the Croation Home.

The newlyweds are residing temporarily with the bride's parents following their return from a brief wedding trip to Akron and Cleveland.

Mrs. Smith is a 1949 graduate of Midland High School. Her husband attended the same school and served three years in the armed forces. He is employed at the Crucible Steel Co.

Mrs. William Silverman was elected president of the Midland Business and Professional Women's Club at a meeting Monday night in Larry's Restaurant. She succeeds Miss Margaret Boston.

Other officers include Miss Marie Presutti, vice-president; Miss Alice High, recording secretary; Miss Charlene Jobe, corresponding secretary, and Miss Frances Vassallo, treasurer.

Two new members were admitted during the session—Mrs. Carl Peacock and Miss Mary Rosatone.

The speaker, Dr. William T. Rice, was assisted by Howard McGrane, both of the Rochester General Hospital. Dr. Rice spoke on "Cancer" and showed a sound color movie and distributed pamphlets to club members.

New officers will be installed at the May 7 meeting by Miss Esther Baurelein of Ambridge.

Three delegates have been appointed to attend the district meeting May 5 at New Castle. They are Miss Margaret Boston, Miss Presutti and Miss Karin Oberg. Alternates are Mrs. Silverman, Miss Carolyn Black and Miss Jobe.

Mrs. Silverman and Miss Boston will attend a state convention June 21-24 at Philadelphia. Other members desiring to attend may make arrangements through Miss Boston.

The double-ring ceremony will be performed that morning at 10 o'clock in the Presentation Catholic Church by Rev. Fr. Paul P. Leger, assistant pastor.

She has named Miss Caroline Verzella of Midland as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Misses Antoinette Cellini, Louise Giovannelli, Mamie Flaca and Natalina Quele, all of Midland. In the role of flower girl will be Marie Di Maggio, the bride-elect's niece, and Stevie Macafe of Butler, a nephew of Mr. Vicari's, will be ring bearer. John Bopp of Butler will serve as his best man, and ushers will include Emil Di Maggio, cousin of the bride-elect, Gino Martinetti, Vincent Trioni and Anthony Pantone.

Miss Di Maggio came to the United States three years ago from Italy. Mr. Vicari served four years in the armed forces during World War II, including duty in Japan. He is employed in Butler as a beer distributor.

Private First Class Samuel Patrick Shaver of Parris Island, N. C., is spending a 10-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Louise Shaver, 5 East Drive. He has completed boot training in the Marine Corps and will report to Quantico, Va., at the conclusion of his furlough. He enlisted late in January.

In Addition To The Tests

Deferment By Classes Clarified For Colleges

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Draft headquarters announced yesterday that freshmen in the upper half, sophomores in the upper two-thirds and juniors in the upper three-fourths of their classes will be deferred during their next undergraduate years.

These collegians also may rate a deferment by scoring 70 on the test. Selective service emphasized already in college on May 26, that students are not required to June 16 and June 30, meet both qualifications. They Selective service said a score get a deferment either by ranking of 70 on the aptitude test is in the top percentage of the class equivalent to 120 on the Army or by getting high enough a general classification test. A score of 75 is equivalent to 130 on the Army test.

The test, designed to measure Army test, ability to learn and not knowl- The Army test is a battery of edge, will be given only to those aptitude tests given to recruits after induction or enlistment. It is not the mental exam given draftees before induction.

College classes' ranking will be made only on the basis of the male students. Selective service said beyond that each college will determine whether a whole male class will be taken into consideration or whether each field of study will be ranked separately.

A week's wait is in prospect for college men who want to apply for the new aptitude test. Selective service said draft boards will not have the application cards until April 12.

The application blanks, in the form of double post cards, already are properly addressed—to a Princeton (N. J.) examining service. All the student needs to do is to get his card from his draft board, fill out the required information, attach a one-cent stamp and mail.

44 Ohio Centers

200 Hear Fashion Expert's Lecture Before Art Club

AMERICAN methods of fashion design and production were contrasted with those of Paris by Miss Janet Ross in a discussion before 200 members and guests of the Wellsville Arts Club Tuesday night in the First Methodist Church.

She is director of the KDKA shopping circle and regional director of the Pittsburgh Fashion group.

Her impressions of Paris and fashion salons gained from a trip in 1949 with a group of teachers. She said the routine of buying dresses in Paris is involved since it requires several weeks for four fittings but the dress would fit to perfection and would wear for years and years.

Prices are high due to individual service and the use of exclusive fabrics make designs so unique. There are 60,000 dress-makers in Paris.

An American manufacturer cannot afford to set up a loom for 100 yards of goods but must go in for mass production. Although a great deal of Paris' trade is international, all Americans do not get ideas from the French, she said. "We have a great number of designers who have done a wonderful job for American women."

She displayed various types and colors of costume jewelry, shoes, gloves, hose, scarfs, flowers, hats and umbrellas.

Never A Dull Moment

Truman's 'Punch' Line Has Washington Buzzing

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—A quick White House denial that President Truman wants to change the rules for electing members of Congress apparently squelched what might have been a political boner.

But there still was fuel for controversy today in the statement attributed to the President—and thus far not denied—that he is "saying up four or five good, hard punches on the nose" for persons who have written "lies" about his family.

John Hersey wrote in the New Yorker magazine that the President added in a conversation with him:

"And when I'm out of this job, I'm going to run around and deliver them personally."

Mr. Hersey said that on an early morning stroll together, the President told him:

"When you come down to it, there's just one thing I draw the line at and that's that kind of attack on my family."

"I don't care what they say about me, I'm human. I can make mistakes. Any man can make mistakes, even if he's trying with all his heart and mind to do the best thing for his country. But a man's family ought to be sacred."

"There was one columnist who wrote some lie about my family when I was in the Senate and

33% Boost Over Last Year

Drinking Blamed For Rise In West Virginia Accidents

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 5 (AP)—Drinking is blamed by State Police Superintendent W. E. Burchett as a prime cause of an increase in the number and severity of state highway accidents the first quarter of this year.

He said West Virginia recorded 83 highway deaths the first three months of 1951, for a 33.84 per cent increase over the 62 deaths in the first three months of 1950.

Rarely does the record vary more than 10 per cent from year to year, he added.

The police head cited as an indication of increased severity the rise in the number of multiple fatalities—accidents causing more than one death.

Records of the state police Accident Prevention Bureau showed that 11 multiple accidents the first quarter of the year caused 24 deaths. Three such mishaps in the corresponding period last year caused six deaths.

Twenty-three of the 83 killed through March 31 were pedestrians, compared to 19 last year.

Colonel Burchett said investigation indicated 20 persons—either pedestrians or drivers—had been drinking in accidents which caused 26 deaths the first two months of the year. This compared to 12 persons drinking in accidents causing 12 deaths in the same period a year ago.

The colonel said the desire of draft-age youths to take "a last fling" before entering military service and an increased traffic flow also were factors in the accident increase. Stationary down, he said he was sorry "publication came at a time when it embarrassed the President in connection with the congressional situation."

Mr. Daniels said he was in no way responsible for a note accompanying his article in which Mr. Truman was represented as broaching the tenure limit idea through Mr. Daniels. He added, "I wish, however, that my friend Joe Short had consulted White House files before he suggested that the article amounted to a breach of confidence."

"Letters in the White House files will show that the article was not even undertaken until I had written the President about the proposed article, asking could I see him to get the story, and had a reply to that letter that he would be glad to see me."

Americas Eye Military Units

Resolution Proposes Forces For U.N. Use

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The inter-American foreign ministers' conference will consider a resolution calling on the American republics to maintain specifically-trained military units for possible use by the United Nations.

The resolution was approved by a subcommittee last night.

Mexico and the United States reached agreement on the proposal after Secretary of State Dean Acheson accepted revisions proposed by the Mexican delegate, Manuel Tello. Argentina and Guatemala, reserving their votes, said they would comment later. Both countries had objected strongly to any move for committing their troops for use outside the Western Hemisphere.

The measure probably will be brought to a vote Friday. The conference, due to end Saturday, has reached substantial agreement on its most difficult problems.

A basic resolution has been adopted in committee calling for strengthening safeguards against sabotage and espionage in the Americas.

And the economic committee drafted final wording last night on a resolution aimed at easing trade problems resulting from this country's growing demand for defense goods.

Educational F.E.P.C. Dies In Ohio House

Compromise Looms In Lausche, O.E.A. School Fund Battle

COLUMBUS, April 5 (AP) — An educational fair employment practices bill died last night in the Ohio House of Representatives.

The author, Representative A. G. Herman (R) of Auglaize County, killed it himself after several days of digging turned up only one witness willing to testify in the measure's behalf.

Two House bills providing a compulsory F.E.P.C. apparently stand little chance of House approval this session. Generally speaking, Republicans in the 1949-50 General Assembly did not approve of a compulsory F.E.P.C.

Speaker Gordon Renner (R) of Hamilton County said after Mr. Herman's move: "I have not detected any change in the Republican members' sentiment regarding F.E.P.C."

A single F.E.P.C. measure, compulsory in nature, is before the Senate. Hearings will begin April 17 before the financial institutions, commerce and labor committee.

There were indications in the House education committee, meanwhile, that a compromise is in the making between Governor Frank J. Lausche's budget recommendation of a $3,500,000 increase in state aid for schools and the Ohio Education Association's demand for a $37,000,000 increase in the form of a minimum salary schedule for teachers.

The compromise is understood to constitute a $19,000,000 boost in the school foundation fund formula within the state funds available.

Another compromise measure was reported out of committee with recommendation for passage last night. It directs Ohio State University trustees to seek written agreements with Ohio State's football opponents for telecasting football games.

The bill further provides if written agreements are reached, the trustees may contract for the telecasts in such a way as to insure they will be available to the greatest number of Ohioans.

Miss Gertrude Jones of Findlay, Republican member of the state Civil Service Commission, was on the witness stand nearly three hours last night before the special Senate committee investigating practices of the commission.

She told probers she believes the commission "is doing the very best job possible under the circumstances and the money available."

Some of Miss Jones' replies to questions put to her by committee counsel Robert W. Newlon were lengthy and Senator William H. Deddens (R) of Hamilton County told her:

"You're sliding around the bases."

This, Miss Jones calmly denied.

Lincoln School Fete Will Be Held Friday

Dog Salutes Anthem
HUMBOLDT, Tenn. — Chum, a cocker spaniel, is nominated by radio men at WJN as the nation's most patriotic dog. Chum spends his day at the transmitting station and hears music all day without opening an eye. When the Star Spangled Banner goes out over the air, he hops to his feet and howls in time with the music.

Surplus Probe To Be Pressed

House Group To Call Maragon And Others

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—House investigators, aroused by accounts of high-profit deals in hard-to-get military surplus, hunted today for possible evidence of "influence" in the disposal of mountains of World War II supplies.

Representative (D) of North Carolina told newsmen he plans to hear, among others, John Maragon, the former Kansas City bootblack found by Senate "5 per cent" probes to have had entry to the White House.

Mr. Bonner also said his investigating group plans to look more closely at a surplus truck sale by the Philippines government which netted a Chicago firm a $425,000 profit.

Mr. Bonner called "morally wrong" evidence that the Army and disposal agencies freely dispensed critical surplus with one hand and then bought it back at fancy prices with the other. He declared it placed the administrators in "a ridiculous position."

The North Carolinian is chairman of a House expenditures subcommittee which for nearly a year has been digging quietly into the matter of surplus disposal.

"We've been hollering and shouting about it the past year," Mr. Bonner said. "But we don't seem to have made much impression on the national defense and armed services."

Monongahela Work Will Cost 16 Million

The Monongahela Power Co., which serves Chester and Newell and the Hancock County area, plans to spend 16 million dollars in property expansion and improvement during 1951.

A. C. Spurr, president, said in his annual report to stockholders most of the sum will go into the generating unit at Rivesville, near Fairmont, which will be completed in August, and the new, three-unit generating station just started at Albright in Preston County.

The company completed its Willows Plant at Willows Island, W. Va., in 1949. The utility spent 10 million dollars in 1950 projects and the cost of its post-war expansion will total 68½ million dollars by the end of 1952.

Monongahela serves most of northern and central West Virginia and small parts of Ohio, Maryland and Virginia. E. C. Dye is Chester manager.

The National Geographic Society says the chariot was the first notable refinement of the cart.

INDIAN ACTRESS WEDS BENEFACITOR. Radha Sri Ram, 23, first Indian film actress ever to visit Hollywood, and the man who started her on her career, French archeologist Raymond Burnier, 35, pose after marriage in Los Angeles Superior Court. They met while she was at Hindu university in Benares.

Prized Bull Will Commute Between Maryland, Oklahoma

HILLCREST Larry 4th, the fabulous Hillcrest Farms' bull which brought a record $70,500 at C. A. Smith's auction last November, is going to be a fashionable commuter.

Roy J. Turner, operator of the Turner Ranch and who now owns half interest in Larry, said the 1949 International Livestock Show's champion bull will spend the summers on the cool Eastern Shores in Maryland and the winters at the former Oklahoma governor's Hereford heaven near Sulphur, Okla.

The summer location will be near Henry Sears' Chino Farms at Church Hill, Md. His company will be a large, select group of high-priced heifers.

Mr. Turner announced his purchase of half an interest from Mr. Sears Wednesday at Oklahoma City.

Mr. Sears bought Larry at the record-breaking auction, outbidding Mr. Turner's representative, who offered $70,100.

Mr. Turner also made Hereford news in 1944 when his T. Royal Rupert sold for $38,000, then the highest price for any Hereford bull.

Rupert became even more famous when he failed to become a father. Treatments at Iowa State Agricultural College failed to change Rupert from a failure to a father. He later was destroyed and the purchaser's money refunded.

Mr. Turner is not going to get caught again. Larry has already

Extra Officer Proposal Dies

Council At Palestine Advances Pay Raise

EAST PALESTINE, April 5 (Special)—City Council Wednesday night rejected a resolution to hire another policeman.

At a meeting in March, councilmen voted unanimously for legislation to create the additional position of Class "B" patrolman. The department now has a chief and three patrolmen.

With two members absent and one abstaining, last night's vote of three for and one against doomed the resolution.

Councilman Claude Beight objected to the expense and said he couldn't see where the extra patrolman is needed.

Chief George E. Nulf requested the increase in the force March 20. He pointed out that extra police work cost the city $2,200 last year, almost as much as the $2,500 salary of a full-time Class "B" patrolman.

Council gave first reading to a revised ordinance granting a general pay increase to municipal workers. The ordinance grants $20-a-month increases to salaried workers, but an error in the legislation had set the increase at $15, causing the revision.

Music In Mail

After tonight's battles, the stage will be set for the quarter-final and tri-final games. Two quarter-final games will be played tonight when the Jigger Room (Baldwin-Wallace) will meet the winner of the Herche Drugs-Kaul Clay of Steubenville game, and the winners of the Mahoning Housing-Milliron contest will tangle with the winner of the Beaver Falls Legion-Jefferson Union match. Friday night will be the battle for the last four spots.

The first forfeit of the tournament was registered last night when the New Cab crew from Marietta failed to appear and their opponents, Chuck Kennedy's, advanced to Friday night's quarter-finals.

Last night's play ran "true to form" as the favorites won with little trouble when the River-view Florists (Washington & Jefferson College) made their debut with Andy Mestrovic, most valuable player last year, registering 31 points as they easily defeated Mercer's Ashland Service of Sebring, 60-26.

Mestrovic took over unofficial scoring honors as he bettered by one point the total registered by Ed Halas of P. and S. in two games. The Florists also took scoring honors for a single game.

Another pre-tourney favorite, the Jigger Room, composed of Baldwin-Wallace College players plus Allan Bailey of Duquesne, smothered the Eastern TV Lab, 56-20. Winners of the tourney in 1949, the Jigger Room includes two other past East Liverpool stars, Jim Harris and Denzil Miller.

The Eastern Radio & TV Lab advanced for their game with the Jigger Room by edging a classy Jobets of Wheeling crew as Bob Cunningham looped a field goal in the last four second to win, 45-43.

Another close game saw the Ravens of Youngwood, Pa., squeeze by the V.F.W. cagers from New Castle, 30-29. Jaquette of the winners sank a foul for the winning margin in the last few seconds. It was his only marker of the game.

The Midland Wrecks and the Jefferson Union crew from Richmond were the only teams to win two games last night.

Midland won the first game of the night when they dropped Randy's Lunch of Chester, 25-13, and then captured the final tilt as they dumped the All-Stars from Woodworth, 39-23.

Jefferson Union defeated Esquire Barbers, 24-18, and then came back three hours later and advanced again by edging the Squadron cagers from Akron, 24-20.

The Devil Dogs of East Liverpool won their first game by eliminating the Northside A. C., 29-14, but lost their second game of the evening to the Army-Navy Club of Massillon, 25-23.

Staging a last quarter rally, the Jersey's of Rochester defeated the East End Merchants, 33-29.

Before he entered the ranks of professional baseball, Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators was a student at Villanova.

Reds' Ted Kluszewski Shows Power At Plate

By The Associated Press
Ted (The Brute) Kluszewski, 26-year-old first baseman of the Cincinnati Reds, is going to be a tough customer in the clutch this season if his Grapefruit League booming is any criterion.

Kluszewski, hailed by friend and foe alike as one of the coming sluggers of the game, is whaling the ball for the Reds at extremely opportune moments.

The former star end at the University of Indiana drove in all of Cincinnati's runs yesterday as the Reds defeated Washington, 3-0, at Orlando, Fla.

The New York Yankees, meanwhile, outlasted El Paso of the Southwest International League, 16-10, in the Texas city. Hank Bauer blasted two home runs and Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Cliff Mapes and Joe DiMaggio one apiece to lead the Bombers' assault.

The Chicago White Sox edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-8, in 10 innings at New Orleans. The Sox tied the score on Jim Busby's homer in the ninth and won out in the 10th when Ed McGhee scored after Ed Robinson fled.

Four home runs enabled the Jacksonville Tars of the South-

Simmons Has Cleveland Camp In Turmoil; Denies He 'Quit'

HOUSTON, Tex., April 5 (AP)—The announced resignation of Coach Al Simmons and then his denial that the Cleveland Indians' camp in somewhat of a turmoil today.

The big question seemed to be: "Is he through or isn't he?" Simmons said he hadn't written a letter of resignation and didn't intend to. But he summed up his status with the club with these words:

"As far as I'm concerned, I'm through and that's that."

Tribe Manager Al Lopez said he was completely surprised by Simmons' statement. He had reported earlier that the third base coach quit because of ill health.

Lopez didn't say, however, whether he now might consider keeping Simmons on his staff. It appeared possible that Simmons and Tribe General Manager Hank Greenberg might meet in Dallas tomorrow and thresh the matter out.

Just before the Indians left Tuscon yesterday, Simmons told reporters that he had "just asked permission to leave for a while so I could go see my personal physician."

"I'm a sick man and I want to find out what the trouble is. I thought maybe if I felt better later on I could come back. I thought maybe I could rejoin the club in Cleveland."

But Lopez shook his head and said he just couldn't understand it.

"He came to me the other night and he was terribly upset," the pilot declared. "He said, 'Al, I'm quitting. I just can't go on like this any longer.'"

"We sat and talked for a long time. He was nearly in tears. I tried to tell him that he should find out what the trouble is and then decide whether or not to quit the club."

Lopez said Simmons thanked him but replied he didn't want it this way. "He said he had definitely decided to quit and have a complete physical checkup."

Spud Goldstein, the Tribe's traveling secretary, also reported he had discussed the matter fully with Simmons and had been told he was definitely quitting.

Simmons, who has been third base coach, said he had been so nervous lately that he hadn't been able to eat or sleep. Before leaving Tuscon he told reporters he planned to drive to Dallas and then on to his home in Milwaukee.

The husky tutor came to the Indians at the start of last season after serving as a coach with the Philadelphia Athletics. He was one of baseball's greatest hitters during his playing career with four American League and two National League clubs.

Yale's Marshall Holds Spotlight In AAU Swim Meet

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, O., April 5 (AP)—Swimming's most sensational splasher, sophomore John Marshall of Yale, holds tonight's AAU spotlight.

The Australian youngster, who celebrated his 21st birthday a week ago by skimming through the 1,500-meter free-style in 18:18.8 at Austin, Texas, is favored to win the same distance test in Ohio State's pool.

His NCAA performance last week was two-tenths of a second under the recognized world record, and no one in tonight's field appeared capable of catching him although the list contains some outstanding hotshots.

Arrayed against the favorite are such talented free-stylers as Jimmy McLane, Yale's Olympic winner; Jack Taylor of Ohio State, the 1950 NCAA and Big Ten champ, and Ford Konno, the Hawaiian High School luminary.

The New Haven Swim Club, defending champion made up of Yale's varsity, freshmen and grads, is a top-heavy favorite to retain the laurels in the three-day meet.

The 1,500-meter free-style is the only event on tonight's slate, with six Friday and six Saturday night Preliminaries will be held in the afternoon.

Marshall, a one-man gang, won the 1,500-meter, 220-yard and 440-yard free-styles a year ago, and in last week's meet bettered two world records and six NCAA and Intercollegiate marks.

A field of 42 teams and 225 individuals is set for the AAU tests.

Rickey Needs New Ship

Army-Bound Youths Hurt Pirates' Chances Of Emerging From Cellar

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—The military draft has cut a wide gap in the youth building program of the Pittsburgh Pirates, lessening the club's chances of emerging from the National League cellar in 1951.

are in or Army bound, forcing veteran Skipper Billy Meyer to revise his plans for the coming campaign.

Pettit looked as if he might justify the $100,000 bonus tag in his early turns on the mound.

Coogan, too, was expected to take over and solve the first base problem. But he is earmarked for the draft as soon as he finishes his studies at the University of Southern California.

That forced the possible shift of home run hero Ralph Kiner from the outfield to first base—a move, if decided upon, which may give the Pirates more power in the outfield and still keep sluggers like Kiner, Wally Westlake and newcomer George Metkovich in the lineup day in and day out.

As things have turned out, it will take a lot of master minding from one of baseball's master minds, Branch Rickey, to keep the club out of the bottom rung again.

Pitching, catching and three-fourths of the infield present problems. Only veteran Bob Dillinger at third appears set in the infield. Holdover Stan Rojek or perhaps Rookie Bob (Whitey) Thomson from the Columbus, Ga., club of the Sally League are the shortstops.

Danny Murtaugh, Rookie Johnny Merson from New Orleans, or handyman Pete Castiglione, are fighting for the second base job, and if it isn't Kiner at first, it might be John Phillips or Dale Long—the lefthander Rickey is thinking of converting into a catcher.

Tom Saffel, Dino Restelli, Dave Bell and the veteran Pete Reiser are bidding for outfield positions. The holdover pitching corps includes Bill Werle, Cliff Chambers, Mel Queen and Murry Dickson. Perhaps Con Dempsey, a good prospect from San Francisco; Bob Friend from Indianapolis, or Harry Fisher from the Pelicans may help the cause.

Clyde McCullough, veteran National Leaguer, heads the catching department. Ex-Coast League star Eddie Fitz Gerald is back from Indianapolis for another try.

Louis Rated As No. 1

Heavyweight Contender
WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—Joe Louis, the aging Brown Bomber from Detroit, is back where he was 14 years ago in the National Boxing Association ratings.

The 47-state boxing body last night rated the former champion as the logical contender for Ezzard Charles' heavyweight crown. This is the same place he stood in the boxing picture in 1937, when James J. (Jimmy) Braddock was wearing the crown. Louis won the title later that year and never moved down in the rankings until he lost the title to Charles.

Now with Louis back in the logical contender slot, Lee Savold, Jersey Joe Walcott and Rex Layne are listed as outstanding boxers.

U.A.W. Wants TV Turned On Key Meetings

Asks Seat For Public From Congress To School Board Events

CLEVELAND, April 5 (AP)—Government-sponsored televising and broadcasting of all public meetings ranging from congressional sessions to school board gatherings was urged today by the CIO United Auto Workers.

A resolution certain of passage at the U.A.W. convention said this would make for better elected officials by subjecting them constantly to public scrutiny.

Framers of the resolution reason that the American public is entitled to see and hear more than the nervous feet and hands of Frank Costello and the baby-faced repurtee of Virginia Hill.

The resolution called upon Congress to build own and operate national-wide radio broadcast and television networks, possibly with provision for contracting with local radio and television stations, for the broadcasting and televising in full of all House and Senate sessions. It also recommended that the same treatment be given congressional committee sessions.

Regional and local union officers were told to work for the televising and broadcasting of sessions of state legislatures and city councils and school boards.

The resolution noted that Russian delegates to the United Nations have become 'the villains of the broadcasting and televising of government proceedings' and that the Senate crime committee hearings were a big hit on television.

The danger, it said, "is that the use of broadcasting and television in public affairs will be limited to the obviously dramatic inquiries involving violence and murder."

The resolution opposed commercial sponsorship of such programs saying the government performers would be at the mercy of the sponsors.

Numerous other resolutions on domestic and foreign policy awaited passage during the final two days of the convention.

Also still lacking approval is a proposed constitutional amendment limiting conventions to one every two years.

The U.A.W. leadership headed by newly re-elected president Walter Reuther, contends the proposal would enable union officers to do their jobs with less worry about union politics. Opponents argue that it would make international officers less responsible to the rank and file.

Neither Mr. Reuther nor U.A.W. Secretary-Treasurer Emil Marey had any opposition for re-election yesterday. Vice-presidents John W. Livingston and Richard T. Gosser running on the Reuther slate had only token opposition.

Chairman Named For West End Carnival

Richard Andrews will serve as general chairman for the annual carnival to be held Friday night at West End School by the Home and School Association.

Committee chairmen will include Food sale Mrs. Nolan Westfall and Mrs. Kathleen Dimmerling, variety show, Mrs. Richard Andrews and Mrs. Norman Hall, fish pond, Mrs. Lena Blythe and Mrs. Ada Payne movie room, Norman Hall and James Patterson ticket sale, Michael Payne and Mrs. Nora Johnson game room, Robert Hillyard and Homer Flanagan, and publicity, Robert Jones, Mrs. Mildred Hawkins and Mrs. Adelene MacBurney.

Judy Holliday Denies Charge

'Oscar' Winners Linked To Communist Activity

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The House un-American activities committee has linked several hundred prominent Americans—among them movie Academy Award winners Jose Ferrer and Judy Holliday—with what it described as a Communist "world-wide peace offensive".

At the same time last night, day won her this year's movie Oscar.

She declared she was "not a member of any organization listed by the attorney general as subversive. In any instance where I lent my name in the past, it was certainly without knowledge that for an appearance later this such an organization was subversive".

Miss Holliday said she previously had made a sworn statement "to the effect that I am not now and never have been a member of the Communist party".

Both Miss Holliday and Mr. Ferrer were named among the sponsors of the Scientific and Cultural Conference for World Peace, held in New York in March, 1949. The committee called this an American front for a campaign which had its origin on a world-wide basis in 1947 with creation of the Communist Information Bureau—successor to the Communist International.

Mr. Ferrer has been subpoenaed for an appearance later this month in the committee's current investigation of Communist influences in Hollywood. He has been named—Langston Hughes, Robert Mors Lovett and Donald Ogden Stewart—were credited with from 71 to 80 front affiliations.

Charles Chaplin, Howard Da Silva, Gale Sondergaard, Artie Shaw and Karen Morley.

Rockwell Kent, the magazine and Harry F. Ward were listed as illustrators, was listed as having having affiliations with 51 to 60, been affiliated with "at least" 85 groups.

Metal Demand Remains High

Uncertainty Fails To Cause Slackening

NEW YORK, April 5 (AP)—Fear of an inventory recession in some consumer goods has not caused any slackening of demand for basic materials such as steel and non-ferrous metals, Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today.

The publication said that "even manufacturers making products reported to be overstocked have shown no inclination to turn down their quotas of scarce metal".

Building inventories of television, radios, appliances and hardware have been noted for several weeks, Iron Age reported. It added:

"For a long time it had been known that dealers and distributors were buying goods faster than they were selling them. They were insuring themselves against shortages expected later this year. Many of them borrowed money to do this. Now they find their shelves are loaded while manufacturers are still turning out a torrent of consumer goods."

"It is true that consumer buying in recent weeks has been disappointing to some. But it is still at a pretty good level. It is expected to improve in the months ahead—spurred by defense spending now at the rate of $5,500,000,000 a month. This spending is bound to be reflected at the consumer level. It may help consumer demand catch its second wind."

Castor Oil Channeled For Use By Services

WASHINGTON, April 5 (AP)—The government yesterday restricted some civilian uses of castor oil. But not, boys and girls, as a medicine.

The Agriculture Department issued the order in a move to assure supplies for the armed services. Castor oil is used as a lubricant in high-powered military planes.

Cutbacks ranging from 40 to 80 per cent were ordered on use of the oil in paints, cosmetics, toilet articles, insoluble metallic soaps, resins and plastics, textiles, brake linings, coating materials for leather, imitation leather and other fabrics, sulfonated oil and for demulsification of petroleum products.

Palestine Minstrel Show Produces $2,100

EAST PALESTINE, April 5 (Special)—Approximately $2,100 was netted from the two performances of the 13th annual show of the East Palestine Minstrel Association. A total attendance of 1,600 was counted at the Monday and Tuesday shows.

Proceeds are used chiefly to finance the Booster Club's summer organized athletic program at the city park.

The minstrel will be presented Monday at Petersburg, and April 16 and 17 at Salem. The following week the association will hold its annual banquet and election of officers.

"Mrs. Filbert, Your Margarine is just tops!"

writes Mrs. Barbara Paul, 7 Concord Street, Natick, Mass.

"Thanks for your nice compliment, Mrs. Paul!" says Mrs. Filbert. "Mrs. Filbert's Margarine is my own recipe, so I'm proud as punch when I get letters like yours."

"Here's what other housewives write me: Cleveland, Ohio: 'Mrs. Filbert, your margarine is much sweeter and smoother than other brands'. Brattleboro, Vt.: 'I use your margarine for all my baking; it is so wonderful!'. Richmond, Va.: 'It's my favorite!'"

"Buy my Mrs. Filbert's Margarine today. 15,000 units of Vitamin A fortify every pound. It's as good for you as it tastes!"
